Death of a Lung

If smoking had the same destructive effect on people's outsides as it does on their insides, you wouldn't need this display - nobody would smoke. It's hard to imagine what tobacco smoke can do to smooth pink lung tissue: Charred cratered and erupting in pale-white malignant tumors, it loses any semblance of being human tissue as depicted in this graphic tabletop display. 9" x 12".

Smokes and Ladders Game

“Smokes and Ladders” helps children understand some of the issues surrounding the dangers of smoking and second-hand smoke. This game includes strategies to deal with situations where tobacco is involved, and students are encouraged to discuss the scenarios as they are encountered. 2-4 players (courtesy of Region of Peel Public Health)
