Cowichan Valley Wellness and Recovery Centre

City of Duncan

May 17, 2021

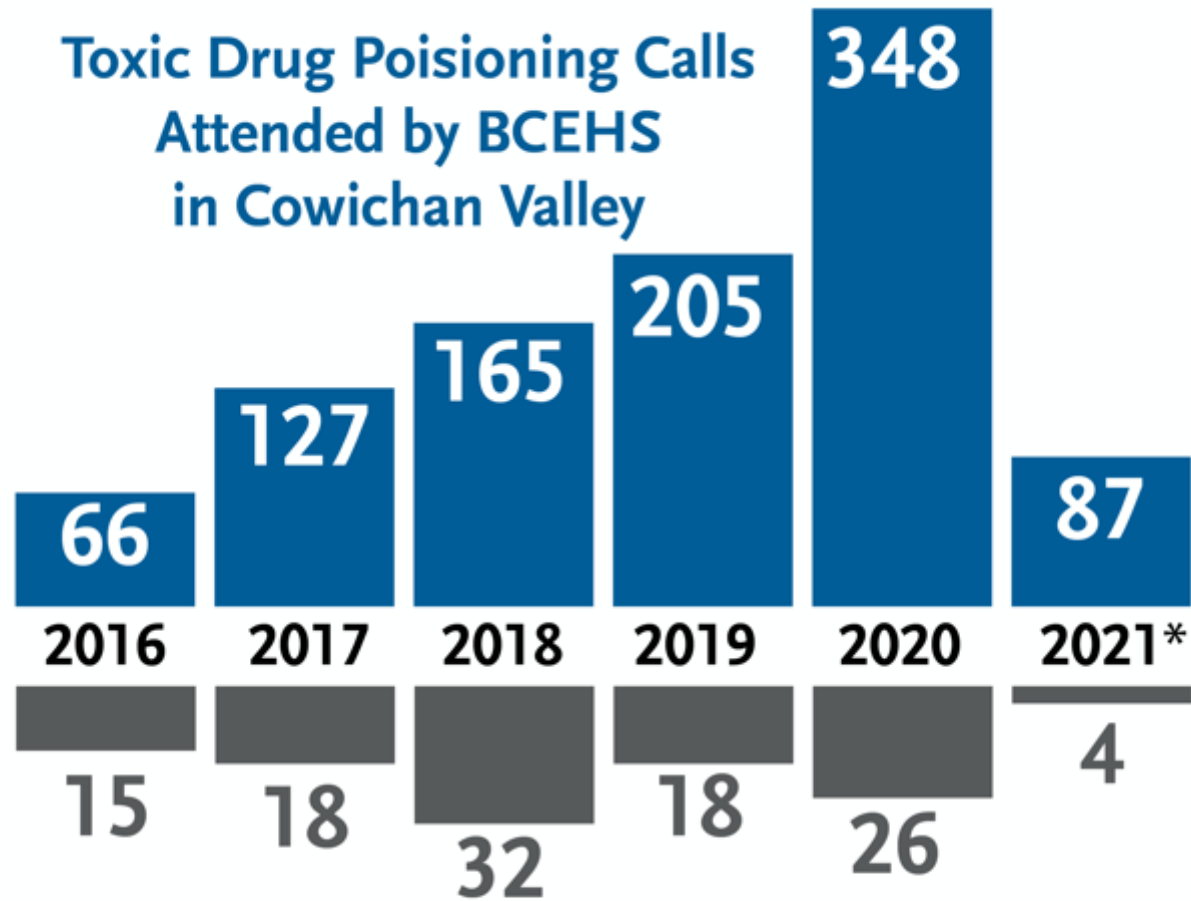

A public health emergency

There is an ongoing toxic drug poisoning crisis and this is causing hundreds of people in the Cowichan Valley to suffer overdoses each year.

Sadly, dozens of people do not survive.

The Cowichan Valley Wellness and Recovery Centre is needed to save lives and support people's health and well-being.

Lookout
Housing + Health Society

The Cowichan Valley Wellness and Recovery Centre will offer a holistic approach to mental health and substance use through prevention, treatment and recovery services

Addiction and Substance Use Disorder

- Addiction can affect anyone.
- It cannot be cured by willpower, just as cancer or diabetes cannot be cured by willpower.
- Substance use disorder is a chronic disease that requires specialized treatment.
- With proper treatment and support, recovery from substance use disorder is possible.
